Three Crack Pilots Send Famous Flying Fortress 259.398 Miles An Hour; New Altitude Marks Established

WRIGHT FIELD, Dayton, O., Aug. 2—In a bold challenge to the vaunted German-Italian air supremacy, the American Army Air Corps today smashed three international records of the Fascist powers and established two other new records, one national and the other international, for military fighting planes.

The dramatic display of the nation's swiftly growing air might came as the air corps commemorated, in a nation-wide observance, the 30th anniversary of the creation of the world's first military airplane.

FRIDAY SET FOR END OF SESSION IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—With the New Deal program of "must" legislation wrecked by a rebellious congress, Democratic leaders today began a drive to bring the seven-month session to a close Friday night.

Virtually all controversial legislation except the final deficiency appropriation bill was expected to be shunted aside, as a result of the house action yesterday in refusing to consider the $1,950,000,000 Steagall lending bill.

Senate decks were almost clear of important legislation. House leaders abandoned hope for passage of the $800,000,000 Wagner housing bill—companion lending measure to the Steagall bill.

Backers of modification of the wage and hours law clamored for the right to vote on three bills in the house. A vote was likely, but final enactment of changes in the law appeared impossible.

State Secretary Advises Attorney General To Study Voting

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2 — A sweeping grand jury investigation of charges that public school teachers in Pike county were assessed for funds to be spent illegally in elections was ordered today by Gov. John W. Bricker.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2 — Secretary of State Earl Griffith today dismissed every member of the Pike county board of elections and recommended to Governor Bricker that Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert conduct special grand jury investigations into election conditions in that county.

Members of the board were Raymond D. Daley, Jr., Republican, Waverly; C. J. Heidel, Democrat, Waverly; R. B. Willson, Republican, Pike; and Milford J. Cofer, Democrat, Waverly, and John R. Keechle, Democrat, Waverly. Keechle is clerk of the board.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 2—With a new endurance flight record in their possession, Hunter and Humphrey Moody today continued to pile up additional hours on the mark vowing they would "stay in the air as long as humanly possible."

Their small four-cylinder craft "Miss Springfield" was functioning smoothly as they cruised around the Springfield municipal airport in a steady rain under dark clouds.

KILLER OF TWO DENIED PAROLE BY STATE BOARD

Beeman Leasure, 29, Must Wait Another Year For Hearing

1938 TRAGEDY RECALLED

Lewis Crawford And His Wife Fatally Hurt On Route 56

Beeman Leasure, 29-year-old Ross county whose automobile killed Mr. and Mrs. Lewis O. Crawford, of Whisler, on May 9, 1938, has been denied a parole from Ohio penitentiary.

Leasure was given a hearing last July 11 by the state parole board, it was learned Wednesday, but his case was continued until March, 1940, at which time it will be considered again.

The Ross countyman pleaded guilty in August, 1938 to an indictment charging second degree manslaughter and was taken to the penitentiary on August 12. He is serving a one to two year term. A second indictment was nolleed Aug. 10 after Leasure admitted the other charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford were killed as they were driving on Route 56, eight and one-half miles East of Circleville, after attending the Northwest Territory celebration in Circleville during the day.

The wreck happened on a straight stretch of road. Several other persons in the Crawford car and several of Leasure's brothers, riding with him, were hurt in the collision.

Investigating officers charged that Leasure was driving when intoxicated. Several of the brothers served terms for intoxication after the head-on collision.

THIS JAP KILLS 251 CHINESE, SO TOKYO HAILS HIM

TOKYO, Aug. 2 — The Japanese press today hailed a new hero — Non-Commissioned Officer Jin Matsuzaki, who returned to his home in Nagano prefecture boasting that he had personally killed 251 Chinese soldiers.

"I was sent to China two years ago," he told the Kemkumshimbun. "I killed 251 Chinese soldiers, but that was far short of the total of 500 I had set for myself. I am sorry I could not realize my ideal. Much to my disappointment, few Chinese were ready to meet me squarely."

"It is also a source of great regret that I had no opportunity to kill Soviet soldiers."

RUSSIAN PAPER HINTS JAP WAR IN NEAR FUTURE

LONDON, Aug. 2 — Russo-Japanese fighting on the Outer Mongolian border was linked to reports that a Russo-Japanese war is imminent in an article, said to have official inspiration, in the Russian newspaper Communist, a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Moscow said today.

The Telegraph, in a message from Shanghai, said large-scale Japanese army withdrawals from Central China towards North China are "puzzling observers."

Four Melt Bars, Flee Prison Farm Hospital

Louis Vandervort, Clinton County Killer, Leads Break From London Institution During Quiet Of Early Morning

SUPERINTENDENT DIRECTS HUNT

Coke, Alcohol And Other Ingredients Put Together To Partially Open Way For Criminals; Guards In Chase

LONDON, O., Aug. 2—Burning their way through bars in the prison hospital, four men, including one murderer, fled from the London Prison Farm early today.

Superintendent T. C. Jenkins said the men mixed a concoction of coke, alcohol and other ingredients which produced a flame strong enough to partially melt the bars in a window of the hospital operating room.

The men shot the flames against the bars from a small tube secure in the operating room, Jenkins said, and then twisted the burned bars apart with copper wire.

Those who escaped were: Louis Vandervort, Clinton county, serving a term for second degree murder;

Nathan King, 38, Lucas county, serving a term for assault to rob; Charles Adomack, 41, Cuyahoga county, serving a robbery term; Harold Curtner, 39, Miami county, serving a robbery term.

The cleverly planned escape came within 24 hours after widespread reports that the state welfare department was planning to probe conditions at the prison farm, seeking to ascertain among other things why there have been so many escapes in recent years.

Men Seen by Guards Jenkins said the men fled through the operating room window about 3 a. m. and were seen by guards as they ran north toward the main highway. Although guards gave chase, the quartet disappeared. No shots were fired, Jenkins said.

The state highway patrol and police in central Ohio cities were immediately notified of the break and warned to be on the lookout for the criminals.

Adomack and Curtner were night nurses in the hospital, Jenkins said, and Vandervort and King, inmates. King, a tubercular, had been in the hospital for some time. Vandervort had been ill for only two days.

"There was no evidence of inside help," Jenkins said. "Right now I don't know where they got all the materials which they used in producing fire. Certainly, there will be an investigation but I don't know what will come of it."

Vandervort was slated to be released on parole last December but Clinton county citizens stirred up such a storm of protest that the parole board rescinded the parole and continued the case until June, 1941. Adomack was to be eligible for parole in September.

The special message was read to congress simultaneously with the signing of the Hatch bill in the oval room of the White House. The message laid down a new executive precedent since it interpreted the law in terms which meant it would be enforced in spirit rather than in the letter.

Since congress has gone so far as to take federal employees out of politics, the President's message suggested that the new air-tight legislation be extended to the "multitude of state and local employees who greatly outnumber federal employees" and who, he added emphatically may continue to take part in politics.

The reading of the special message came in a heavily dramatic atmosphere in the two chambers of congress where members who have overthrown the New Deal's legislative program at this session, listened in silence.

VOTE DEFEATING BIG MONEY BILL PROVES UNREST

"No More Blank Checks," Declares Democrat As Act Loses

Many Solons Thought Fund Would Be Used For Campaign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Democratic and Republican politicians today sized up the seventy-sixth congress as plainly opposed to a third term for President Roosevelt and fed up with New Deal spending as a means of promoting national prosperity.

This was the interpretation they placed on the congressional revolt that was climaxed by the house's repudiation of the multi-billion dollar spend-lead bill. They warned this cleavage will be carried into next January's session of the same congress and right up to the 1940 conventions unless the President declares himself against a third term.

The revolt, they pointed out, constitutes the first time a Roosevelt congress has refused to give the President a blank check or dared to slash his requests for relief funds.

One Republican observed: "This is the end of the New Deal spending newysmoon."

A Democrat said: "This congress fears a third term and will give the President no more blank checks until he declares himself out of the 1940 race."

Cuts, Restrictions Voted The house action came as no surprise. Previously, the senate butchered the President's bill, slashed its total and imposed so many restrictions around raising the necessary funds as to practically hamstring the program.

All this came after the White House "palace guard" launched its drive to draft Roosevelt for a third term. This is the significant point emphasized on every side. It reflected a deep-rooted cloakroom conviction that the President proposed using the money to pave the way for a third term. The same conviction was reflected in recent passage of the Hatch bill, taking (Continued on Page Eight)

DANZIG'S TRADE NEXT NAZI GOAL

Removal Of Polish Customs Inspectors Demanded In New Drive

DANZIG, Aug. 2—Germany's bloodless campaign to bring Danzig back to the Reich entered a second phase today and Europe was threatened with a new crisis as, militarization of the free city practically completed, the Nazis opened a militant drive for commercial control of the port.

Removal of Polish customs inspectors from the Danzig-East Prussian frontier was demanded in a sudden press drive, which pointed out that the price of German goods in Danzig is prohibitive.

"Away with Polish spies and agents!" said banners hanging over the streets of frontier villages.

(A dispatch to the London Daily Express said the Nazi-controlled Danzig senate sent a note to Warsaw saying the free city no longer would recognize the 100 Polish customs inspectors now controlling Danzig's foreign trade.)

Danzig Nazis were especially angered by Polish curbs on transshipment of margarine and her-

WATER DOUSES DYNAMITE BOMB TOSSED IN HOME

SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 2—A dynamite bomb was thrown into the home of Rudolph Reese, non-striking General Motors Corporation employee, today, but was intercepted and put out with water before it exploded.

The bomb was thrown through a window of the home in which Reese, his wife and three daughters were asleep. It awakened the family when it fell to the floor, and Reese doused the sputtering fuse in a pan of water.

Police Lieutenant Fred Bosman said the bomb was large enough to have demolished the home and killed or critically injured every member of the family. Reese struck with 50 other workers on July 10 when the C. I. O. Auto Workers' union spread its "slow pressure" strike against General Motors to Saginaw.

Later, however, he returned to his job as a tool and die maker. Yesterday two C. I. O. unionists, Anthony Puder, 34, and John Duby, 37, were fined $5 each for carrying dynamite torpedoes in their automobile.

The health contest is the first in two years. None was held in 1938.

FISHER STRIKE SCENE QUIET AS TRUCE GOES ON

Riot Area Fixed By Ness
Prevails; Pickets

MAN REPORTS BEATING

Attention Centers On Talk
In Detroit Between
Faction Chiefs

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2 — All was quiet on the Cleveland Fisher body plant strike front today as C. I. O.-United Automobile Workers and sympathizers and police continued to observe the unofficial truce in effect yesterday.

The strikers were on their good behavior at the behest of Union Attorney William J. Corrigan, who told Common Pleas Judge John P. Dempsey there would be no further violence. Corrigan had the support of union leaders.

With the "riot area" proclaimed by Safety Director Elliot Ness still in effect, pickets turned their efforts to maintaining lines at the homes of non-striking workers, but no trouble was reported. The Ness proclamation prohibits massing of pickets in a large area surrounding the plant, and limits the pickets at each gate to five.

Corrigan made his promise, to Dempsey as the judge granted a postponement of the company's plea for a picket-limiting injunction at the union attorney's request. The injunction hearing will be held tomorrow afternoon.

One worker, Leonard Moore, 26, reported he was beaten by three men who forced his car to the curb after he had left the plant. Police sought the owner of the automobile that crowded Moore's.

Attention of strikers and non-strikers alike was centered in Detroit, where peace conference designed to end the strike of U. A. W.-C. I. O. tool and die makers are under way.

OHIO TAX LEAGUE AND BAR TO MAP PROBE IN STATE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2—Officials of the Citizens Tax League of Ohio prepared today to confer with representatives of the Ohio Bar association in connection with a proposed probe of the state industrial commission.

In a report made public yesterday, the league charged that workmen's compensation funds were being handled in a "slipshod" manner and that there was evidence of collusion between commission employees and lawyers representing claimants.

Stuart Baxter, executive director of the organization said the cooperation of the attorney's group would be sought because the bar has been conducting an inquiry into the handling of compensation claims.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 — James McHugh, 24, was expected to be freed today in felony court after telling the circumstances of the death of his father, Frank, 46. The father was killed yesterday in a fist fight with his son.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the killing when the youth and his mother related that the fight started because James tried to stop his father from beating the mother. It was believed this finding would be accepted in court.

FISHER STRIKE SCENE QUIET AS TRUCE GOES ON

Riot Area Fixed By Ness
Prevails; Pickets
Are Limited

MAN REPORTS BEATING

Attention Centers On Talk
In Detroit Between
Faction Chiefs

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2 — All was quiet on the Cleveland Fisher body plant strike front today as C. I. O.-United Automobile Workers and sympathizers and police continued to observe the unofficial truce in effect yesterday.

The strikers were on their good behavior at the behest of Union Attorney William J. Corrigan, who told Common Pleas Judge John P. Dempsey there would be no further violence. Corrigan had the support of union leaders.

With the "riot area" proclaimed by Safety Director Elliot Ness still in effect, pickets turned their efforts to maintaining lines at the homes of non-striking workers, but no trouble was reported. The Ness proclamation prohibits massing of pickets in a large area surrounding the plant, and limits the pickets at each gate to five.

Corrigan made his promise, to Dempsey as the judge granted a postponement of the company's plea for a picket-limiting injunction at the union attorney's request. The injunction hearing will be held tomorrow afternoon.

One worker, Leonard Moore, 26, reported he was beaten by three men who forced his car to the curb after he had left the plant. Police sought the owner of the automobile that crowded Moore's.

Attention of strikers and non-strikers alike was centered in Detroit, where peace conference designed to end the strike of U. A. W.-C. I. O. tool and die makers are under way.

OHIO TAX LEAGUE AND BAR TO MAP PROBE IN STATE

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2—Officials of the Citizens Tax League of Ohio prepared today to confer with representatives of the Ohio Bar association in connection with a proposed probe of the state industrial commission.

In a report made public yesterday, the league charged that workmen's compensation funds were being handled in a "slipshod" manner and that there was evidence of collusion between commission employees and lawyers representing claimants.

Stuart Baxter, executive director of the organization said the cooperation of the attorney's group would be sought because the bar has been conducting an inquiry into the handling of compensation claims.

BOY WHO KILLED FATHER TO WIN COURT FREEDOM

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 — James McHugh, 24, was expected to be freed today in felony court after telling the circumstances of the death of his father, Frank, 46. The father was killed yesterday in a fist fight with his son.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the killing when the youth and his mother related that the fight started because James tried to stop his father from beating the mother. It was believed this finding would be accepted in court.

Efforts To Find Ordinance

SEVERAL PROBLEMS UP
Increase In Salaries For Hospital Employees To Be Talked

No legislation is scheduled for the regular meeting of council Wednesday night.

Councilmen at their last session discussed the addition of a motorcycle patrolman to the police department and planned to reconsider an ordinance that was voted down some months ago. Efforts to locate the old ordinance have been unsuccessful and since Carl C. Leist, city solicitor, is on vacation, it appeared doubtful if the question would be discussed at this meeting.

Numerous complaints from city folk about traffic conditions resulted in council deciding to reconsider the employment of a motorcycle patrolman to check traffic during the daytime.

Councilmen reported they expected to have a discussion on the proposed increasing of salaries for the superintendent and nurses at Berger hospital. Salary schedules of the employees, reduced during the depression period, have never been restored. Receipts of the hospital so far this year are the highest in the history of the institution.

Councilmen are faced also with the problem of employing an additional fireman in the near future. New state regulations on hours will necessitate the employment of another fireman.

STEPSON ADMITS KILLING WOMAN AFTER PROMISE

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 2—"I had to do it. I promised mother when she was dying that I wouldn't let father marry Nancy."

State's Attorney Rea Jones attributed this statement today of George W. Gore, Jr., 32, after announcing that Gore had made a complete oral confession to the murder of his step-mother, Mrs. Nancy Gore, 45.

Mrs. Gore was shot five times early July 23 by a man who broke into the glass-enclosed porch of her home in Benton, where she was sleeping with her husband, a widely known physician. Dr. Gore, 65, escaped injury by rolling off the bed to the floor. The murdered woman had been Dr. Gore's secretary for ten years before their marriage two years ago.

Gore's alleged confession was made in the county jail at Cape Girardeau, Mo., but later Gore was brought to Benton where he was to produce the murder gun.

Jones said Gore confessed after a statement made by his wife, Kathryn, 22, had been read to him. The wife in her statement said her husband had confessed the killing to her. Gore wept during the reading of his wife's story and when it was completed, according to Jones, he began his confession with the remark:

"This means the electric chair or life imprisonment for me. I don't know but what I'd rather take the electric chair."

FATHER OF EIGHT GOES TO PRISON IN MELON DEATH

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—Athon Papas, 55-year-old father of eight children, faced 99 years in prison today following his conviction by a jury of the fatal shooting of Muriel Campbell, 18. The girl was shot by Papas on May 30 during an altercation over a 60-cent watermelon.

The jury required only two hours to reach its verdict and fix the penalty. At the trial Papas did not deny firing the fatal shot, but claimed he had shot "into the air" just to frighten away Miss Campbell and several young companions from the fruitstand where he was employed as a clerk. Papas claimed the young people had tried to steal the melon, but the state depicted the elderly man as a "quick trigger" killer who twice before had shot persons during arguments.

executives and was taking no stand regarding him.

TWO RESOLUTIONS

The resolution as published by the Texas congressional delegation defending Vice President Jack Garner from the scathing blast hurled at him by John L. Lewis was quite different from its original form.

The first draft proposed by leaders of the Lone Star group accused Garner as a friend of labor as follows: "Mr. Garner has always been absolutely fair, impartial and just in dealing with labor and all legislation for the betterment of humanity. Mr. Garner's fine, patriotic and outstanding record needs no defense."

But as the resolution was finally agreed on, this language was deleted—at the insistence of younger members of the delegation.

They raised no objection to a statement endorsing Garner. The entire delegation was unanimous on that—even the New Deal members. But praise of his labor record was sharply challenged on the ground that some of the group were not acquainted with it and could not say anything about it.

So to avoid dissension, which would be sure to leak out, the leaders, old cronies of Garner, dropped the protested language and the resolution as unanimously agreed on was confined to deploring the Lewis attack and expressing confidence in Garner's integrity.

NOTE—Contrary to the first public impression, John L. Lewis' blast against Garner was not done on the spur of the moment. It was something he thought over for a long time and rehearsed carefully in advance.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Truman of Missouri is a dead ringer for Justice Felix Frankfurter. So is Senator Smathers of New Jersey for Attorney General Frank Murphy.

Eloquent Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma made a slip of the tongue in Senate debate; he spoke of "the sale of spiritual liquors." McNary of Oregon laughed delightedly. . . . It was an odd pair when veteran Democrat Pat Harrison of Mississippi crossed the Senate aisle and sat down to chat with freshman Republican Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Not odd was the pair of Bankheads chatting on a sofa at the back of the chamber. Speaker Bill Bankhead had strolled from the House side to the Senate to see his brother, Senator John Bankhead. . . . Artist Rockwell Kent has offered to donate his work to illustrate a W.P.A. Federal Writers book on Hawaii. He would travel to Hawaii to make the drawings. He may do the same thing, also, for a Virgin Islands book. . . . Hallie Flanagan, who headed the W.P.A. Federal Theatre Project which Congress liquidated, says she will never be happy again on a college faculty. Formerly a Vassar prof, she has been in the storm of things, far from the cloisters, during four years past.

GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY
The Library of Congress telephoned W.P.A. Federal Writers office in the Ouray Building the other day and asked to have all borrowed books returned.

"But why?" asked W.P.A. "We have just gotten them."

"Yes," responded Library, "but you are going to be moved out of the Ouray Building, and we don't want to have the books banged around."

"But we're not going to be moved out," protested W.P.A.

"Oh, yes you are," insisted Library.

And Library was right. This is the way things happen in Uncle Sam's government. With the termination of Federal Theatre Project, also housed in the Ouray Building, it was decided that the remaining Projects—

So an order was given to clear out. But the order never got to the Projects principally concerned. The first word they had of it, before movers swarmed in to seize their desks and tear up their telephone lines, was from the Library of Congress.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

With a star-studded cast including Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter, "The Shining Hour" opens at the Circle Theatre Wednesday for an engagement of two days.

Miss Crawford plays a role which parallels her own career as a Broadway dancer and is reminiscent of her first starring pictures in dancing roles.

The story, directed by Frank Borzage centers around a world-famous dancer who, tiring of the glare of the spotlight, marries a wealthy farmer. Complications ensue when her husband's sister resents the presence of the dancer in the family home. To make matters worse, her brother-in-law falls in love with her.

"The Shining Hour" marks the first time that Joan Crawford and Margaret Sullivan have played in the same picture. Both Young and Douglas have appeared with the star in several productions.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"I'll never play another straight leading part as long as I live!" It is a broad statement for an actress to make, but Ann Southern makes it. She is featured in "Maisie" in which she portrays a colorful little honky-tonk showgirl who gets stranded and finds romance in Big Horn, Wyoming.

"I've served my apprenticeship as nice, wishy-washy sweet girls who are there for no other purpose than to be rescued by the hero and share in the climax at the fadeout," asserted Miss Southern. "From now on it is going to be character parts or nothing. I don't care how small or how large they are as long as they have some 'guts' to them."

Miss Southern considers her role in "Maisie," which opens tonight on the Cliftona screen, the best she has played since she entered pictures. "Maisie is human, real and has a definite character," she declares. "Of course, every role can't be a Maisie. But I'll play any good character part even if the character appears in only three scenes of a picture."

JUDY WED, DIVORCED

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—Judy Canova's secret was out today. The hill billy singer revealed that she not only had been married in 1936 to Robert Burns, of New York, an insurance man, but that five months ago she obtained a divorce quietly in Florida. Judy attributed the breakup to her work in Hollywood, explaining her career and separation from hubby made it impossible to maintain married life.

Sherwood Silent About Probe At Prison Farm

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2—Preoccupied with vacation plans, State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood today refused to affirm or deny assertions that he was directing a probe into London Prison Farm conditions.

"We are always investigating every state institution," he said, "but there is a difference between an investigation and a probe."

Asked point blank whether Superintendent T. O. Jenkins would be requested to resign or whether removal charges would be filed against him, Sherwood, although indefinite, indicated he was not at the present time contemplating either move.

He refused to deny, however, an assertion made by Jenkins that the welfare director charged the superintendent with tolerating liquor and contrabands as well as with inefficiency.

Sherwood said he was leaving for Canada either Friday or Saturday and as far as he was concerned newsmen could expect no definite comment on statements attributed to Jenkins after Sherwood visited the institution Monday night.

Changes Hinted

Recalling the secrecy which surrounded much of the Ohio penitentiary probe, observers believed, in view of Sherwood's unwillingness to talk openly and directly, that changes might eventually be made at the Farm.

Sherwood was rather petulant when the story "broke" to the effect that Jenkins was slated for the same fate that befell James C. Woodard, former penitentiary warden who resigned under fire.

At the same time, however, the director said in future action against any welfare institution he would "not pull my punches."

There was some speculation as to whether the asserted probe at London might not have been motivated by the prevalent rumor that W. F. Amrine, superintendent of corrections and acting penitentiary warden, would like to return to London.

Amrine, a favorite son of the administration as far as penal affairs are concerned, resigned as superintendent at London after an altercation with former Gov. Martin L. Davey. Amrine allegedly refused to inquire into the political connections of prison farm employees.

May Be Second

If Jenkins is forced to resign or is summarily dismissed, he will be the second penal expert with more than 30 years' service with the state who has fallen during the present Republican administration.

Woodard had more than 30 years' service and Jenkins first took up prison work in 1908 when he became superintendent of schools at the Reformatory. While superintendent of the Reformatory itself, Jenkins survived a probe instigated by Hal Griswold, Cleveland, then welfare director, and Sherwood.

The two young men who have been supplying the out-door pictures here have cancelled for further exhibits. Some other party may possibly be contacted to fill in the gap.

Frank Baum, our local civil engineer and with the county surveyor's office, has the plans for the Asheville park shelter house completed and will be ready for the village council to pass at their regular meeting next Monday evening, when, if approved, open bids will be taken for construction.

Dr. Curtis Cromley, with plenty of working force, has begun the building of that fine modern residence out on East Main street, Noel Rader, Circleville, is the builder. The doctor being a veterinarian, we are guessing that somewhere about the place will be found a modern animal hospital.

Rev. Glick, wife and two children, David and Gretchen came from Bucyrus Monday afternoon to make a short visit with friends. They spent the night with Mrs. Clara Bowers and daughters Helen and Georgia. Were entertained to dinner Tuesday at the home of C. F. Puckett and family. Reverend Glick for several years was pastor of the local Lutheran church congregation and also Lockbourne. They returned home Tuesday evening. And another visiting Lutheran preacher was with us in the person of one Rev. G. Elmer Swoyer, the initial G. being for Grover, so you know that much about him without the telling and he is an S. T. M., D. D., and you can figure that out, too, maybe. The Reverend is a local product of our schools and Wittenberg, Springfield. Was a chaplain during the World War; is pastor, with an assistant and secretary, of the First English Lutheran Church at Mansfield with a membership of near 1800. His mother, Mrs. Joanna Swoyer and two sister, Mrs. W. A. Bowers and Mrs. E. F. Martin reside here and his visits home are as frequent as his church duties will permit.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 2—"I had to do it. I promised mother when she was dying that I wouldn't let father marry Nancy."

State's Attorney Rea Jones attributed this statement today of George W. Gore, Jr., 32, after announcing that Gore had made a complete oral confession to the murder of his step-mother, Mrs. Nancy Gore, 45.

Mrs. Gore was shot five times early July 23 by a man who broke into the glass-enclosed porch of her home in Benton, where she was sleeping with her husband, a widely known physician. Dr. Gore, 65, escaped injury by rolling off the bed to the floor. The murdered woman had been Dr. Gore's secretary for ten years before their marriage two years ago.

Gore's alleged confession was made in the county jail at Cape Girardeau, Mo., but later Gore was brought to Benton where he was to produce the murder gun.

Jones said Gore confessed after a statement made by his wife, Kathryn, 22, had been read to him. The wife in her statement said her husband had confessed the killing to her. Gore wept during the reading of his wife's story and when it was completed, according to Jones, he began his confession with the remark:

"This means the electric chair or life imprisonment for me. I don't know but what I'd rather take the electric chair."

FATHER OF EIGHT GOES TO PRISON IN MELON DEATH

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—Athon Papas, 55-year-old father of eight children, faced 99 years in prison today following his conviction by a jury of the fatal shooting of Muriel Campbell, 18. The girl was shot by Papas on May 30 during an altercation over a 60-cent watermelon.

The jury required only two hours to reach its verdict and fix the penalty. At the trial Papas did not deny firing the fatal shot, but claimed he had shot "into the air" just to frighten away Miss Campbell and several young companions from the fruitstand where he was employed as a clerk. Papas claimed the young people had tried to steal the melon, but the state depicted the elderly man as a "quick trigger" killer who twice before had shot persons during arguments.

TWO RESOLUTIONS

The resolution as published by the Texas congressional delegation defending Vice President Jack Garner from the scathing blast hurled at him by John L. Lewis was quite different from its original form.

The first draft proposed by leaders of the Lone Star group acclaimed Garner as a friend of labor as follows: "Mr. Garner has always been absolutely fair, impartial and just in dealing with labor and all legislation for the betterment of humanity. Mr. Garner's fine, patriotic and outstanding record needs no defense..."

But as the resolution was finally agreed on, this language was deleted—at the insistence of younger members of the delegation.

They raised no objection to a statement endorsing Garner. The entire delegation was unanimous on that—even the New Deal members. But praise of his labor record was sharply challenged on the ground that some of the group were not acquainted with it and could not say anything about it.

So to avoid dissension, which would be sure to leak out, the leaders, old cronies of Garner, dropped the protested language and the resolution as unanimously agreed on was confined to deploring the Lewis attack and expressing confidence in Garner's integrity.

NOTE—Contrary to the first public impression, John L. Lewis' blast against Garner was not done on the spur of the moment. It was something he thought over for a long time and rehearsed carefully in advance.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Truman of Missouri is a dead ringer for Justice Felix Frankfurter. So is Senator Smathers of New Jersey for Attorney General Frank Murphy.

Eloquent Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma made a slip of the tongue in Senate debate; he spoke of "the sale of spiritual liquors." McNary of Oregon laughed delightedly. It was an odd pair when veteran Democrat Pat Harrison of Mississippi crossed the Senate aisle and sat down to chat with freshman Republican Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Not odd was the pair of Bankheads chatting on a sofa at the back of the chamber. Speaker Bill Bankhead had strolled from the House side to the Senate to see his brother, Senator John Bankhead. Artist Rockwell Kent has offered to donate his work to illustrate a W.P.A. Federal Writers book on Hawaii. He would travel to Hawaii to make the drawings. He may do the same thing, also, for a Virgin Islands book. Hallie Flanagan, who headed the W.P.A. Federal Theatre Project, which Congress liquidated, says she will never be happy again on a college faculty. Formerly a Vassar prof, she has been in the storm of things, far from the cloisters, during four years past.

GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY
The Library of Congress telephoned W.P.A. Federal Writers office in the Ouray Building the other day and asked to have all borrowed books returned.

"But why?" asked W.P.A. "We have just gotten them."

"Yes," responded Library, "but you are going to be moved out of the Ouray Building, and we don't want to have the books banged around."

"But we're not going to be moved out," protested W.P.A.

"Oh, yes you are," insisted Library.

And Library was right. This is the way things happen in Uncle Sam's government. With the termination of Federal Theatre Project, also housed in the Ouray Building, it was decided that the remaining Projects—

Writers, Art, Music, and Historic Records—would not need the whole Ouray Building, rented at a cost of $26,000 a year.

So an order was given to clear out. But the order never got to the Projects principally concerned. The first word they had of it, before movers swarmed in to seize their desks and tear up their telephone lines, was from the Library of Congress.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

With a star-studded cast including Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullavan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter, "The Shining Hour" opens at the Circle Theatre Wednesday for an engagement of two days.

Miss Crawford plays a role which parallels her own career as a Broadway dancer and is reminiscent of her first starring pictures in dancing roles.

The story, directed by Frank Borzage centers around a world-famous dancer who, tiring of the glare of the spotlight, marries a wealthy farmer. Complications ensue when her husband's sister resents the presence of the dancer in the family home. To make matters worse, her brother-in-law falls in love with her.

"The Shining Hour" marks the first time that Joan Crawford and Margaret Sullavan have played in the same picture. Both Young and Douglas have appeared with the star in several productions.

AT THE CLIFTONA

"I'll never play another straight leading part as long as I live!" It is a broad statement for an actress to make, but Ann Southern makes it. She is featured in "Maisie" in which she portrays a colorful little honky-tonk showgirl who gets stranded and finds romance in Big Horn, Wyoming.

"I've served my apprenticeship as nice, wishy-washy sweet girls who are there for no other purpose than to be rescued by the hero and share in the clench at the fadeout," asserted Miss Southern. "From now on it is going to be character parts or nothing. I don't care how small or how large they are as long as they have some 'guts' to them."

Miss Southern considers her role in "Maisie," which opens tonight on the Cliftona screen, the best she has played since she entered pictures. "Maisie is human, real and has a definite character," she declares. "Of course, every role can't be a Maisie. But I'll play any good character part even if the character appears in only three scenes of a picture."

Sherwood Silent About Probe At Prison Farm

COLUMBUS, Aug. 2—Preoccupied with vacation plans, State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood today refused to affirm or deny assertions that he was directing a probe into London Prison Farm conditions.

"We are always investigating every state institution," he said, "but there is a difference between an investigation and a probe."

Asked point blank whether Superintendent T. O. Jenkins would be requested to resign or whether removal charges would be filed against him, Sherwood, although indefinite, indicated he was not at the present time contemplating either move.

He refused to deny, however, an assertion made by Jenkins that the welfare director charged the superintendent with tolerating liquor and contrabands as well as with inefficiency.

Sherwood said he was leaving for Canada either Friday or Saturday and as far as he was concerned newsmen could expect no definite comment on statements attributed to Jenkins after Sherwood visited the institution Monday night.

Changes Hinted
Recalling the secrecy which surrounded much of the Ohio penitentiary probe, observers believed, in view of Sherwood's unwillingness to talk openly and directly, that changes might eventually be made at the Farm.

Sherwood was rather petulant when the story "broke" to the effect that Jenkins was slated for the same fate that befell James C. Woodward, former penitentiary warden who resigned under fire.

At the same time, however, the director said in future action against any welfare institution chief he would "not pull any punches."

There was some speculation as to whether the asserted probe at London might not have been motivated by the prevalent rumor that W. F. Amrine, superintendent of corrections and acting penitentiary warden, would like to return to London.

Amrine, a favorite son of the administration as far as penal affairs are concerned, resigned as superintendent at London after an altercation with former Gov. Martin L. Davey. Amrine allegedly refused to inquire into the political connections of prison farm employees.

May Be Second
If Jenkins is forced to resign or is summarily dismissed, he will be the second penal expert with more than 30 years' service with the state who has fallen during the present Republican administration.

Woodard had more than 30 years' service and Jenkins first took up prison work in 1908 when he became superintendent of schools at the Reformatory. While superintendent of the Reformatory itself, Jenkins survived a probe instigated by Hal Griswold, Cleveland, then welfare director, and Sherwood.

Tom Yawkee Spends His Money In Wrong League

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Mr. Tom Yawkee had the right idea when he decided to build a pennant-winning baseball team and turned loose a couple of million in the attempt, for a good ball club generally is regarded as a sound investment, but where he booted one was in his choice of the Boston American League Red Sox, the evidence at hand today seems to indicate all over again. It has been suspected for a long time. Recipients of everything that Mr. Yawkee's money could buy in the way of talent during the last few years and making their best showing this season, the Red Sox still trail the New York Yankees by eight games.

The point we're attempting to make—while explaining to Mr. Yawkee several years too late how he should have spent his money—is that for half the price he long since could have had a championship in the National league. Of course, he'd rather catch an eagle than a sparrow, but it's a pennant he has been seeking and that's what he would have by this time if he had steered clear of the Yankees.

Team Second Best?

He has what probably is the second best baseball team in the game, but either must improve it still more or hope for early disintegration of the Yankees before he will be able to get anywhere, while if he raided other National league clubs with his pocketbook, and carried out his activities over there, he would have achieved his aim in a breeze. Every one of the National league pennant-winners in the last five years has been mediocre. The Cincinnati Reds are good this time, but Mr. Yawkee would have had his pennant before now and undoubtedly would be in the race again.

Of course, the Red Sox still could win this season, if the Yanks should go into a tailspin, but that's a remote chance. Eight games to the rear at this stage of the proceedings is an almost insurmountable obstacle.

The Red Sox won yesterday and got rid of Bob Feller in doing it, their victims being the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 5, with Feller blasted off the hill as Bobby Doerr belted two homers for the Sox.

Meanwhile, the Yankees were losing to the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, marking the first time in 13 games stretching through two years that the Tigers have beaten Red Ruffing.

The Chicago White Sox trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 1, and the Washington Senators downed the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 5.

The New York Giants snapped the Cincinnati Reds' 10-game winning streak in the 10th inning, 5 to 4 in the National league feature to enable the St. Louis Cardinals to gain a full game on the Reds. The Cards, winners over the Boston Bees, 4 to 3, now trail by 11 games.

The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 3, and the Chicago Cubs downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 2, despite the retirement of Dizzy Dean after the third inning due to another arm ailment.

BRANNON CLUBS

BALL TO ASSIST ESHELMAN CREW

Don Brannon, Eshelman Feeds third baseman, pounded out three circuit clouts Tuesday evening to help his team win a 9-6 softball contest from the Cooper Oils.

The game was played on the utilities field, W. Mound street. The transfer was made because the road leading to the north end park is blocked for repairs.

The game was close most of the way, but the Eshelman outfit came through with three runs in the seventh inning to clinch the fray.

Chuck Young pitched for the winners and Dean was on the mound for the losers.

Tonight's game will be between the Wallace-Glitt and Purina Feed teams. It, also, is expected to be played on the Mound street lot.

The junior casualties were Calvin Sawyer of Chicago, seeded seventh, who lost to Gardner Larned of Chicago, 7-5, 6-1, and Art Prochaska of Hartford, Conn., seeded eighth, who lost to Jimmy Ewart of Chicago, 6-1, 6-2.

CINCINNATI '9'

BEATEN 5 TO 4, SEEKS REVENGE

Giants, Aided By Danning, Defeat Derringer In Extra Inning

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2.—The Cincinnati Reds, individually and collectively, today hoped to retaliate against the New York Giants, who broke the league-leading Rhinelanders' winning streak of 10 games.

The first defeat in 11 starts left the Reds 11 games in front of the second position St. Louis Cardinals and 15 games ahead of the reviving Giants.

New York's winning run came in the 10th inning when Harry Oanning singled to bring Bill Jurgens home from second. Previously the Giants had staged a six-hit, three-run rally in the sixth inning.

The scoring was made against the pitching of big Paul Derringer, ban of the Cincinnati hurling staff. It was the moundsmen's 11th defeat against 14 victories.

Gabby To Gamble

On Another Rookie

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Heartened perhaps, by the impressive debut of Outfielder Bill Nicholson yesterday against the Phils, Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs shoved another rookie into his lineup today to bolster his faltering regulars.

Today's newcomer was Bobby Mattick, recently brought back to the Cubs from Milwaukee in exchange for Steve Messer. Mattick was selected to take over Dick Bartlett's job at shortstop, where the former Giant star has been making almost daily errors.

Hartnett's benching of Bartlett in favor of Mattick was made without comment, but the catcher-manager is known to have been disappointed over Bartlett's showing in the infield. Bartlett was one of six players involved in a six-man Winter swap between the Giants and Cubs. Bill Jurgens, one of the players traded by Bill Terry's outfit, has been going great guns at shortstop with New York.

Nicholson, who came to Chicago from Chattanooga, playing his first game with his new teammates yesterday, hit a towering home run, scored another run with a long sacrifice fly and in all respects showed promise of adding badly needed punch to the Cubs' anemic batting array. In right field, he handled four chances flawlessly and had an assist.

Another highlight of the game, which the Cubs won, 6 to 2, was the retirement of Dizzy Dean at the end of three innings. Dean asked Hartnett to relieve him because his old pitching arm soreness had returned. There was much speculation today as to just how serious Dean's latest arm trouble might be, but there was no comment forthcoming from Dean or anyone else.

CINCINNATI '9' BEATEN 5 TO 4, SEEKS REVENGE

Giants, Aided By Danning, Defeat Derringer in Extra Inning

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2—The Cincinnati Reds, individually and collectively, today hoped to retaliate against the New York Giants, who broke the league-leading Rhinelanders' winning streak of 10 games.

The first defeat in 11 starts left the Reds 11 games in front of the second position St. Louis Cardinals and 15 games ahead of the reviving Giants.

New York's winning run came in the 10th inning when Harry Oanning singled to bring Bill Jurgens home from second. Previously the Giants had staged a six-hit, three-run rally in the sixth inning.

The scoring was made again by pitching of big Paul Derringer, one of the Cincinnati hurling staff. It was the moundman's 11th defeat against 14 victories.

Gabby To Gamble On Another Rookie

CHICAGO, Aug. 2—Heartened, perhaps, by the impressive debut of Outfielder Bill Nicholson yesterday against the Phils, Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs shooed another rookie into his lineup today to bolster his faltering regulars.

Today's newcomer was Bobby Mattick, recently brought back to the Cubs from Milwaukee in exchange for Steve Mesner. Mattick was selected to take over Dick Bartell's job at shortstop, where the former Giant star has been making almost daily errors.

Hartnett's benching of Bartell in favor of Mattick was made without comment, but the catcher-manager is known to have been disappointed over Bartell's showing in the infield. Bartell was one of six players involved in a six-man Winter swap between the Giants and Cubs. Bill Jurgens, one of the players traded by Bill Terry's outfit, has been going great guns at shortstop with New York.

Nicholson, who came to Chicago from Chattanooga, playing his first game with his new teammates yesterday, hit a towering home run, scored another run with a long sacrifice fly and in all respects showed promise of adding badly needed punch to the Cubs' anaemic batting array. In right field, he handled four chances flawlessly and had an assist.

Another highlight of the game, which the Cubs won, 6 to 2, was the retirement of Dizzy Dean at the end of three innings. Dean asked Hartnett to relieve him because his old pitching arm soreness had returned. There was much speculation today as to just how serious Dean's latest arm trouble might be, but there was no comment forthcoming from Dean or anyone else.

ROAD BUILDERS TO OPEN RT. 22 FOR FALL EVENT

Contractors Say Favorable Weather Speeding Work On New Highway

SECOND BRIDGE BUILT Third To Be Complete In September; Percentage Of Job Listed

With favorable weather conditions, officials of the Lewis & Frisinger Co., contractors on the Route 22 improvement west of Circleville, believe the highway will be opened temporarily in October for the annual Pumpkin Show.

Work on the improvement will not be completed by that time, but it is hoped it will have progressed to a point the road can be used during the celebration. Concrete work on the three bridges is progressing rapidly. One is completed and the second nearing completion. The third one will be finished in September. Paving is under way on the western end of the project.

Officials said the roadway construction is 48 percent complete to date and the bridge work 53 percent complete.

Surface treating of approximately 70 miles of county roads under a P. W. A. project is about 71 percent complete. The work is expected to be completed this month.

T. D. Van Camp & Sons, Columbus, are contractors in the improvements, their bid for the work amounting to $83,994.37. The program includes surfacing 51.7 miles of gravel roads and re-treatment of 18.4 miles of surfaced roads.

government employees out of politics.

Other influences aided the revolt against the President. On one hand, tired congressional members are anxious to go home. There would be no more new legislative proposals, only to send up the spend-lend program and demanding action on housing legislation as the session neared a close. This forced the session into August and compelled the members to pay out another month's rent on their apartments—and that alone incurred much bitterness.

North, South Split
Another factor was the growing cleavage between northern and southern Democrats. Northern Democrats charge their southern colleagues with "trying to starve the North," which may account for many southerners voting against the lending bill.

Beneath it all lay opposition to a third term and to more spending. Here is the public comment: Rep. Joe Martin, Republican floor leader: "the house is convinced that this wild spending must stop if we are going to have any real recovery. It represents a general uprising of the people, who thought this bill would be destructive to the welfare of the country and eventually mean throwing millions out of work."

Rep. Sabath, of Illinois, New Deal leader: "certain members from Virginia, Ohio, Nebraska and few other places wanted to get even with the President, along with members from the South. They were hitting at the President."

Rep. Gavagan, New York New Dealer: "It is the old story of a combination between the Republican party and the reactionary Democrats."

Rep. Bolles, Wisconsin Republican: "My analysis is that no proposition of the President since he came into office has been received with such unpopularity as this spend-lend bill. The reason for the house action is plain. The public looks at the figures of enormous appropriations and have come to the conclusion that the time has come when there must be a halt."

Rep. Marcantonio, New York Roosevelt liberal: "a reactionary coalition has been in control of the house all this session."

Rep. Shafer, Michigan Republican: "the house heard from home. The people are against this wild waste of money."

Rep. Johnson, Oklahoma New Dealer: "Republicans and reactionary Democrats are now in the saddle. Let them come forward with a better program. We are washed up for the session."

ARMY AIR CORPS MAKES RECORDS

achieved as "a part of the day's work." Air corps officers said the late stock bombers which are being delivered to the air corps to constitute the backbone of its aerial "front line" defense did the job without embellishments.

The Italian and German records, it was learned, were established in ships especially designed for the particular job of speed or altitude, stripped of all other impedimenta, while the American bombers that shattered the records of the Fascist powers are "stock" jobs for all-round offensive and defensive combat purposes with unusually long range bomb loads carried at high speeds.

A third record, Italian, was smashed to bits when Capt. W. P. Sloan and Capt. B. L. Boatner flew a Grumman amphibian over a 1,000-kilometer course at an average speed of 186,904 miles per hour. The record for military amphibians, held by Italy, was 159.8 miles per hour.

Not content with taking three world fighting plane records from the Fascist powers, the air corps streaked across the continent from Los Angeles to New York to set a new transcontinental speed record for passenger-carrying planes.

Another "flying fortress," a B-17-B, also of advanced type, spanned the nation from ocean to ocean in nine hours, fourteen minutes, thirty seconds. It left Burbank, California, at 3:57 a. m. and landed at Floyd Bennett airport, New York, at 1:11-1/2 p. m. The previous record for passenger-carrying planes was held by D. W. Tomlinson and H. B. Snead who flew the same route in a Douglas transport on April 30, 1935.

Hughes Holds Mark
The solo flight record for a small speed plane is held by Howard Hughes who sped across the continent in a special racer in the record time of 7 hours, 28 minutes, 25 seconds for an average time of 332 miles an hour on January 19, 1937.

A fourth international record was established as a curtain raiser to the nation-wide anniversary observation of the air corps' thirtieth birthday when Major Caleb V. Haynes and Captain W. D. Old took the army's largest bomber, the XB-15, which weighs 32,000 pounds, to an altitude of 8,200 feet.

The previous international record for maximum loads was held by Russia in a plane which achieved an altitude of 2,000 meters with only 28,660 pounds.

Two thousand fighting planes took to the air throughout the nation at 11 a. m. today when President Roosevelt, from the nation's capital, gave the signal to nine major air corps bases.

ROME, Aug. 2—Two records in a single flight, one for distance and the other for speed, were claimed today by the Italian army.

PROFESSOR RISKING OWN LIFE IN RAID SHELTER

LONDON, Aug. 2—Even at the risk of his own life, Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, who frequently uses himself as a human guinea pig, today volunteered to become literally "the goat" in air raid shelter tests. Haldane protested against the use of goats in experiments on the steel back-yard shelters, 2,500,000 of which are now being distributed. He insisted the tests meant nothing unless human beings were used, and offered to sit in one of the shelters while explosives were blasted outside.

As head of the air raid precautions coordinating committee, Haldane urged deep refugees instead of the metal shelters, which, although he was willing to try one, he argued were unsafe.

THE popular McCormick-Deering Spreader has been improved—it is now better than ever. It has a stronger, low-built box that a short man can load without back-breaking pitching. Steel braces all around. The new saw-tooth beaters can't wrap and bind. The spike-tooth shredders do a real job of pulverizing. Manure doesn't drift because the spiral gives a steady, uniform throw.

On top of such features comes a new Lime-Spreading Attachment that makes the machine a double-purpose outfit. You have to see both the spreader and the attachment to appreciate them fully. Stop in any time.

The Lime-spreading Attachment is separate and can be added in a few minutes. It has a wide, uniform, easily-controlled spread. Capacity 35 to 40 acres a day.

government employees out of politics.

Other influences aided the revolt against the President.

On one hand, tired congressional members are anxious to go home. There would be no more new legislative proposals, only to send up the spend-lend program and demanding action on housing legislation as the session neared a close. This forced the session into August and compelled the members to pay out another month's rent on their apartments—and that alone incurred much bitterness.

North, South Split

Another factor was the growing cleavage between northern and southern Democrats. Northern Democrats charge their southern colleagues with "trying to starve the North," which may account for many southerners voting against the lending bill.

Beneath it all lay opposition to a third term and to more spending. Here is the public comment:

Rep. Joe Martin, Republican floor leader: "The house is convinced that this wild spending must stop if we are going to have any real recovery. It represents a general uprising of the people, who thought this bill would be destructive to the welfare of the country and eventually mean throwing millions out of work."

Rep. Sabath, of Illinois, New Deal leader: "certain members from Virginia, Ohio, Nebraska and few other places wanted to get even with the President, along with members from the South. They were hitting at the President."

Rep. Gavagan, New York New Dealer: "it is the old story of a combination between the Republican party and the reactionary Democrats."

Rep. Bolles, Wisconsin Republican: "My analysis is that no proposition of the President since he came into office has been received with such unpopularity as this spend-lend bill. The reason for the house action is plain. The public looks at the figures of enormous appropriations and have come to the conclusion that the time has come when there must be a halt."

Rep. Marcantonio, New York Roosevelt liberal: "a reactionary coalition has been in control of the house all this session."

Rep. Johnson, Oklahoma New Dealer: "Republicans and reactionary Democrats are now in the saddle. Let them come forward with a better program. We are washed up for the session."

achieved as "a part of the day's work." Air corps officers said the late stock bombers which are being delivered to the air corps to constitute the backbone of its aerial "front line" defense did the job without embellishments.

The Italian and German records, it was learned, were established in ships especially designed for the particular job of speed or altitude, stripped of all other impedimenta, while the American bombers that shattered the records of the Fascist powers are "stock" jobs for all-round offensive and defensive combat purposes with unusually long range bomb loads carried at high speeds.

A third record, Italian, was smashed to bits when Capt. W. P. Sloan and Capt. B. L. Boatner flew a Grumman amphibian over a 1,000-kilometer course at an average speed of 186.904 miles per hour. The record for military amphibians, held by Italy, was 159.8 miles per hour.

Not content with taking three world fighting plane records from the Fascist powers, the air corps streaked across the continent from Los Angeles to New York to set a new transcontinental speed record for passenger-carrying planes.

Another "flying fortress," a B-17-B, also of advanced type, spanned the nation from ocean to ocean in nine hours, fourteen minutes, thirty seconds. It left Burbank, California, at 3:57 a. m. and landed at Floyd Bennett airport, New York, at 1:11-1/2 p. m. The previous record for passenger-carrying planes was held by D. W. Tomlinson and H. B. Snead who flew the same route in a Douglas transport on April 30, 1935.

Hughes Holds Mark

The solo flight record for a small speed plane is held by Howard Hughes who sped across the continent in a special racer in the record time of 7 hours, 28 minutes, 25 seconds for an average time of 332 miles an hour on January 19, 1937.

A fourth international record was established as a curtain raiser to the nation-wide anniversary observation of the air corps' thirtieth birthday when Major Caleb V. Haynes and Captain W. D. Old took the army's largest bomber, the XB-15, which weighs 32,000 pounds, to an altitude of 8,200 feet.

The previous international record for maximum loads was held by Russia in a plane which achieved an altitude of 2,000 meters with only 28,660 pounds.

Two thousand fighting planes took to the air throughout the nation at 11 a. m. today when President Roosevelt, from the nation's capital, gave the signal to nine major air corps bases.

ROME, Aug. 2 — Two records in a single flight, one for distance and the other for speed, were claimed today by the Italian army.

The Nazis regarded Polish trade restrictions as an attempt to sabotage economic life of the free city. Nazi newspapers cited the action as proof of Danzig's need to return to the Reich.

SUIT FOR $32.50 GOES TO COMMON PLEAS COURT

PROFESSOR RISKING OWN LIFE IN RAID SHELTER

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Even at the risk of his own life, Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, who frequently uses himself as a human guinea pig, today volunteered to become literally "the goat" in air raid shelter tests. Haldane protested against the use of goats in experiments on the steel back-yard shelters, 2,500,000 of which are now being distributed. He insisted the tests meant nothing unless human beings were used, and offered to sit in one of the shelters while explosives were blasted outside.

As head of the air raid precautions coordinating committee, Haldane urged deep refugees instead of the metal shelters which, although he was willing to try one, he argued were unsafe.

A Piece of News about the

Improved McCormick-DEERING Manure Spreader

THE popular McCormick-Deering Spreader has been improved—it is now better than ever. It has a stronger, low-built box that a short man can load without back-breaking pitching. Steel braces all around. The new saw-tooth beaters can't wrap and bind. The spike-tooth shredders do a real job of pulverizing. Manure doesn't drift because the spiral gives a steady, uniform throw.

On top of such features comes a new Lime-Spreading Attachment that makes the machine a double-purpose outfit. You have to see both the spreader and the attachment to appreciate them fully. Stop in any time.

The Lime-spreading Attachment is separate and can be added in a few minutes. It has a wide, uniform, easily-controlled spread. Capacity 35 to 40 acres a day.
